

TO HAVE A FINE NEW CHURCH.

THE CORNERSTONE OF ST. MATTHEW'S TO BE LAID TOMORROW BY BISHOP POTTER.

To-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the cornerstone of the new St. Matthew's Protestant Episcopal Church, in West Eighty-fourth-st., near Central Park, will be laid. Bishop Potter, after officiating at the bi-centennial celebration of St. Peter's Church, Westchester, will return to the city in time to lay the cornerstone and deliver the address.

St. Matthew's parish was organized about six years ago. Previously there had existed a mission chapel in what is now known as Columbus-ave., between Eighty-second and Eighty-third sts., for the benefit of the German residents in that neighborhood identified with the Episcopal faith. The church building, which is still standing, is of wood. In the spring of the present year property in West Eighty-fourth-st., near Central Park, was purchased. A building, to cost about $45,000, was planned. William Halsey Wood being the architect. The dimensions of the structure are 50x122 feet, and the seating capacity will be about 700. The style of architecture will be early English-Gothic. The basement is already constructed, and it is hoped that by December 1 the Sunday-school room, which is to be in the basement, will be ready for occupancy.

The music at the services to-morrow will be given by the choir of Christ Church, under the direction of B. C. Edwards. The rector of the church is Henry Chamberlain; the warden James H. Falconer and Charles W. Ladd. The vestrymen are M. W. Ladd, Timothy Hogan, A. W. Kelly, Edward Berry, F. W. Perry, Edward Barnes, G. G. Stillwell and Ira Bliss Stewart.

BROCKWAY LIABLE TO ARREST.

AN ORDER ISSUED IN A SUIT FOR DAMAGES AGAINST THE KEEPER OF THE ELMIRA REFORMATORY.

Z. R. Brockway, superintendent of the Elmira Reformatory, will be compelled to give bail or inspect the inside of a jail if he should come to this city within a few days. An order of arrest was issued against him by Judge Fitzsimons, in the City Court, yesterday. Christian Rhoades, who was sent to the Reformatory in September, 1890, has brought a suit against Mr. Brockway for assault. Rhoades lives in Brooklyn, and says that when he was sent to Elmira he was fifteen years old. While there he declares that on a charge of taking he was "paddled" by the superintendent and his assistant with a strap three feet long, three inches wide and an eighth of an inch thick. Before the strap was used, he says, it had been soaked in water. Blood flowed from the places on his bare flesh where the strap hit him.

Again, he declares, Mr. Brockway hit him in the mouth with his fist and knocked out several teeth. On another occasion he repeated this operation, and split his lip and made his mouth so sore that he could not eat for two weeks.

Friend & House have brought suit in the City Court in behalf of Rhoades against Brockway for $2,000, and the order of arrest was granted that suit. It is said that Mr. Brockway is expected in town soon, and when he comes the order will be served upon him by the Sheriff.

HIS PLEA WAS EFFECTUAL.

A HIGHWAYMAN SAID HE WAS STARVING AND HIS VICTIM DECLINED TO PROSECUTE HIM.

Mrs. Haxeter, a wealthy woman, living at No. 19 East Seventy-ninth-st., was robbed of her pocket-book containing $2,000 yesterday, as she turned into Seventy-eighth-st., from Lexington-ave., shortly after noon. The thief was Thomas Hogan, twenty-eight years old, of No. 325 East Fifteenth-st., who was captured after a lively chase by Park Policemen Fitch and Ferguson with the stolen purse still clutched in his hand. He at first resisted, but was subdued.

The officers then led their prisoner back to where Mrs. Haxeter was waiting. Hogan told her that he was out of work and starving, and when she saw the poverty in his face she relented and the temptation was too great for him to resist. Mrs. Haxeter decided not to prosecute. As she failed to appear in the Yorkville Police Court in time, however, Hogan was arrested. Justice Burke held the prisoner $4,000 bail, remanded him to trial and ordered the policemen to produce Mrs. Haxeter to-day.
